Class of 2016: Welcome to the College Planning Process!

The junior and senior years of high school require a decision from you that will probably be one of the most important of your lifetime: choosing a form of higher education and making post-secondary plans. Your college choice often impacts many other life choices – lifestyle, values, and occupation – and you should be thoughtful and strategic about this decision.

We recognize that each student begins the college process at a different place, and as your counselor, we hope to meet you where you are. We hope that you will take the lead in researching and applying to colleges, and we will work to support you through every step of the way.

In this packet, you will find a number of resources designed to help you stay on track and be prepared throughout the college application process. However, you are bound to have questions that are not covered in this guide that are more specific to you and your career and college choices. Strive to become your best advocate and be sure to seek out your counselor to let us know how we can best support you. You should also feel comfortable talking to the admissions office.

We look forward to working with you and your family during this exciting time. Best of luck!

College Planning Timeline for Juniors

Winter
- Make an appointment with your guidance counselor for your Junior College Family Meeting.
- Finalize a testing plan for the SAT I, SAT II and ACT tests. Refer to testing dates located in the College Planning Packet.

Spring
- Fill out your brag sheet! Your counselor will write the letter of recommendation only when the brag sheet is submitted. We always welcome additional or updated information at any time.
- Visit schools that you are interested in. Take a tour, go to an informational meeting, sit in on a class, and try to get a feel for what it would be like to go to that school. If you visit a school you are very interested in, consider making an appointment for an on-campus interview, if available.
- Decide what teachers you would like to write your recommendation letters and ask them if they can do that for you. Typically, students ask two academic teachers to write.

Summer
- If you know the essay prompt for any of your application, write a draft of your college essay.
- Compile your resume, audition portfolio or other evidence of your talents for college admissions or scholarship applications.
- Continue to visit schools. Set up on-campus interviews, if applicable.
- Narrow your list of potential college choices.
- Begin to research scholarship opportunities.
- Make a Common Application account on commonapp.org and fill it out. The application should be available in early August.

Getting the Most Out of a College Visit

Being on a college campus, even for a few hours, can tell you a lot about the college and how well you might fit in at that institution. Below are some tips for how to get the most out of visiting college campuses.

Things to Consider Before You Visit:
- While it is tempting to visit only the most prestigious schools on your list, you should make sure you visit colleges that are within the realm of possibility for you.
- Good times to visit:
  - Any school breaks you may have during 11th and 12th grade
  - Summer before senior year – remember that campuses may not seem lively over the summer because the student body is not there. Try not to let this sway your opinion.
- Visit the admissions office website to look at different opportunities for prospective students.

Things to Do During Your Visit
- Campus Tours
- Information Sessions
- Class Visits
  - Many colleges invite prospective students to sit in on a class or two. Sometimes this needs to be pre-arranged. Contact the admissions office or check the website for specific information.
- Overnight Visits
  - Many colleges arrange for prospective students to stay on campus with a student host. You can eat in the dining hall, visit some classes and spend the night in a residence hall.
- Meeting with an Academic Department or Professor
  - If you have specific questions about the opportunities in a specific major, use this occasion to try to meet with someone in the department. Be sure to arrange this in advance.
- Meeting with a Financial Aid Counselor
  - If you will be applying for financial aid, this is your opportunity to ask about grants, scholarships and student loans. Pick up any forms or applications you may need to apply for aid.
- On-Campus Interviews
  - If you are visiting a school that offers interviews and you are very interested in the school, make an appointment before you get to campus for an interview. Be prepared to sell yourself as a successful candidate for admission. Also prepare some school-specific questions for your interviewer.

Making the Most of Your Visit:
- Don’t get too emotionally involved with your tour guide.
  - These students love their college and are trained by the admissions office to be honest, but to say positive things about the school. Their view may not be the most objective.
- Pay close attention and ask questions of the tour guide.
  - Why did you choose College X? What do you like best about the college? What do you like least? What courses have you enjoyed the most and why? What are the big issues on campus right now?
- Things to consider and observe while you are on tour:
  - The appearance of campus; student dress – casual or sophisticated; friendliness of the community; hot topics – pick up a student newspaper to see what’s happening on campus; how are students getting around campus; library; residential options; amenities; food.
  - If there is something you want to see that wasn’t on the official tour, ask your guide if you can see it!

Overall Impressions
Making the Best of a College Interview

Relax, prepare and get ready to enter into a great conversation with your interviewer. Take advantage of the chance to get to know your prospective college a little better.

Preparation

- Know the basics. Learn as much about the institution as possible before you go in. Scour the school’s brochures and Web site.

- Review your application materials (if you have already applied). The interviewers may use your application materials to strike up a conversation with you. Review your application essay so it’s fresh in your mind when you interview.

- Practice some generic questions. There are a few basic questions you can probably count on hearing: Why do you want to go to this college? What do you expect to gain from the college experience? What do you plan to major in and why? You don’t need to memorize your answers, but think through the issues ahead of time so you’ll have some ideas to discuss.

- Practice some specific questions. You’ll also want to prepare for questions that ask you to identify key topics or experiences that are important to you. Think in advance about some of your favorite experiences, activities or plans. If you’ve identified your own “hit list,” you’ll find them easier to recall when asked.

- Prepare some questions to ask. Show your interest in the school by asking specific questions, such as, how would you describe the student body? What are the most popular majors (and why)? What are the school’s strengths? Where does the school need to improve?

Interview Day

- Dress appropriately by choosing a more conservative outfit; modest and non-distracting with a minimum of accessories, make-up, jewelry and perfume.

- Make sure you know exactly where your interview is being held. Call in advance and ask for directions if you’re unsure, and schedule enough time to get there.

- You should also plan to arrive several minutes early. The extra time may come in handy if you encounter delays, and arriving early will let you take a few moments to relax and prepare yourself mentally.

- Introduce yourself and greet the interviewers with a handshake, smile and positive attitude.

- Remember that this is a conversation, and that the interview wants to know about you. Be yourself and be honest in your answers. And to score points:

  - Provide more than a “yes” or “no” answer. Keep your answers as conversational as possible. Try to find specifics that naturally back up your answers.

  - Be spontaneous. Though you should practice answering some basic questions, answer honestly, naturally and spontaneously in the interview.

  - Be positive. Highlight the good things from your academic past and put a positive “spin” on your background.

Post–Interview

- Send a thank–you note or thank–you email shortly after the interview. Showing interest and appreciation goes a long way.

A good interview feels like a good conversation!

Quick Guide to Application Plans

There are a number of different admissions plans that colleges and universities offer to students. The type of plan offered can impact the timing of submission for your applications, so it’s important to know what plan(s) the colleges you’re applying to offer. The possibilities include:

Rolling Admissions

Schools that use a Rolling Admissions plan generally begin accepting applications in the fall, and will make decisions on applicants on an ongoing or rolling basis. Students can improve their chances of acceptance at Rolling Admissions schools by getting their applications in as early in the admissions window as possible. Since these schools fill their incoming spots over the course of a couple of months, the longer you wait to submit your application the less space they have available and the higher the admissions standards become.

Regular or Deadline Admissions

Many schools set a deadline for applications to be submitted. The deadline is usually January 1st or January 15th, though some schools might set a different deadline date. With deadline schools, all application materials must be present in the admissions office before the date set by the school. No decisions will be made on applications until after the deadline has passed and the admissions office has had the opportunity to review all applications. Therefore, the timing of your submission does not impact your admissions decision, as long as you submit prior to the deadline. Generally, decisions for deadline schools go out in the early spring, well ahead of the May 1 deadline to put in a deposit.

Early Decision (ED)

Colleges and universities that offer an Early Decision option require that these applications be submitted early, usually by November 1 or November 15. Students can only submit an ED application to one school. The benefit of applying ED is that students that apply using this option will receive a decision usually in mid December or early January. Keep in mind, ED applications are binding; students are agreeing in advance that if the school accepts their application, they will withdraw applications from any other schools and attend their ED school. Students are required, as part of the ED application, to submit an ED agreement form, which is essentially a contract signed by the student, parent and counselor. Because these applications are binding, it’s crucial that students only apply ED if they are fully confident that this is the right school for them.

Early Action (EA)

Some schools offer an Early Action option, which provides the same benefits as an ED application (early submission date, early notification of admissions decision) without the binding contract. Students have no obligation to attend an EA school, and may submit multiple EA applications.

Restrictive Early Action (REA)

Very few schools offer Restrictive Early Action (REA) plans, but those that do set specific conditions for applicants. Usually, schools that offer REA admissions don’t allow students to submit either an ED or EA application to any other school. Be sure you read carefully and follow any restrictions the school places on this program. These applications generally follow a similar timeline as ED and EA, but like with EA applications, students are not obligated to attend if accepted.

1) Log in to Naviance using your email address and password. If you don’t know your account information, or don’t have an account, please contact the Guidance Office at 610–293–0855 x 3529. The web address for the log in page is listed below, and can also be found under the Naviance tab on the Guidance section of the High School website.

https://connection.naviance.com/family-connection/auth/login/?hsid=radnor

2) After you’ve logged in, click on the colleges tab at the top of the page. That will bring you to this screen.

3) Under the my colleges tab, click on the link labeled colleges I’m applying to.

4) This page will appear. Prior to requesting transcripts for any Common Application schools, students will need to have created a Common Application account. Once the account is created, students must complete the FERPA Waiver located on the assign recommenders page on Common App.

5) Once the FERPA waiver has been completed, students must then match their Common App account in Naviance. In the box labeled Common App Email Address, please enter the email address that you used to create your Common App Account and hit the button that says Match.
6) Once you've matched your account, you can then begin requesting transcripts for your schools. On the colleges I'm applying to page, click on the button labeled request transcripts. This page will appear. To choose the schools you'd like transcripts sent to, hit the lookup button and choose the school you are applying to. You can request as many as ten transcripts at one time. Once you've selected your schools, hit the request transcripts button at the bottom of the page.

7) Your requests have now been submitted to the Guidance Office. This screen will appear as confirmation of that submission. Please keep in mind that the Guidance Office has 10 school days from the day you submit your request to send out your records. Once you submit your request, you must remit payment to the Guidance Office before any transcripts will be sent. Each request costs $3, and can be paid for with a check made out to Radnor High School.

8) If you are applying to any schools using the Common Application, please keep in mind that we cannot send your transcripts to those schools unless you've added them into your Common Application account.
9) Students must also request teacher recommendations through Naviance. This request allows teachers to submit letters electronically to schools. Go to the colleges I'm applying to page and scroll down to the bottom. You will see a tab labeled Teacher Recommendations. Under that tab is a button labeled add/cancel requests. Once you click on that button, the following page will appear.

10) Under the heading Add New Requests, choose the drop down labeled (select teacher). This will give you access to a list of every teacher in the building. Simply choose which teachers you’ve already asked to write you a letter, and hit the Update Requests button at the bottom of the page. This will allow your teachers to submit your letter electronically to the schools you request. It’s important that you communicate with your teachers directly regarding which schools you want their letter to be sent. This responsibility lies with the student.
